

■ Model Laura poses for Pamela Britton, Ralph Stanton, Astriel Dahl and Oliver Walker at Allegretta Studio.

THE development of a new workshop at Allegretta Artists Studio and Exhibition Space in Fremantle has resulted in the addition of life drawing classes to its programme.

The classes are held each Wednesday, Friday and Saturday morning and are designed for people who want to sharpen their skills in figure drawing or for those who like to draw from a live model.

Art

A variety of art classes are planned for the months to come, including evening sessions, and exchange exhibitions with studios throughout the world are also envisaged.

Allegretta was established about 18 months ago and houses 42 studios for working artists. Its exhibition area is already nearly fully booked until the end of the year.

Located at 22 Pakenham Street, the studio is open to the public to view art on display from 11am to 3.30pm each weekday.

To register your interest in the life drawing classes, or for more information, phone 430 8145.